My background is in education and I was a secondary school teacher for over 30 years. As my career progressed, I developed an increasing interest in the mental health of my students which led me to train as a school counsellor. Currently, I have several voluntary jobs and I work as a part-time counsellor in a secondary school.

During my career as a teacher, I have worked with school governors and served on many committees as I have a keen interest in curriculum development and finding more productive working practices. Due to the increased flexibility of my working week I feel I have the time to work as a governor and I am looking forward to visiting the school during working hours and getting to know the staff and pupils. My main focus will be the school curriculum and the mental health wellbeing of the staff and pupils.
